

July 26, 2011

Re: 2011107

Thank you for contacting the Imodium A-d Call Center. Global Medical Safety is responsible for monitoring the safety of our products. As part of our company's routine product safety reporting obligations and to comply with FDA requirements, it is our policy to request additional information related to any experience reported with our products.

To better understand your experience with using our product, we would like to request your permission to contact your health care provider to obtain additional medical information. To give us permission, please complete the attached Authorization for Disclosure of Medical Information Form and return it to us in the enclosed, self-addressed envelope. The medical information we collect is considered confidential. The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 ("HIPAA"; 45 CFR, Part 164) permits the disclosure of patient health information for public health activities, such as adverse event reporting, without the patient's authorization.

The information we request is vital in helping us maintain a high standard of product safety in the marketplace. Please know that the information provided regarding an experience is entered into our global safety database and used strictly for evaluation and safety monitoring. Any personal information is treated with utmost confidentiality to ensure your privacy. Our objective is to continue to insure the safe and effective use of our products.

Thank you very much for your cooperation. Please refer to the AER# at the beginning of this letter in any future correspondence on this issue.

Sincerely,

Global Medical Safety
J&J Pharmaceutical Research and Development, LLC

Enclosures: Authorization for Disclosure of Medical Information Form
Return Envelope